

THE 6th SCENARIO

FOR THE FUTURE OF EUROPE

Covenant for participatory and grassroots democracy in the EU Decalogue for a united, liable, democratic Europe: an instrument for peace in a globalized world

1. ensure the “Rule of Law”: supremacy of law, right to have rights, non-discrimination, separation of powers, sanctions against the abuse of power – to complete the Area of Freedom, Security and Justice, within the respect of Fundamental Rights and democratic principles;
2. preserve and enhance cultural diversity, starting from cities and regions, within the framework of a multilevel identity, which characterizes the European model, since it’s at local level that cohesion and integration must be created or fail;
3. grant the right of asylum and the reception of those who flee war, political persecution, starvation, natural disasters, and the land grabbing, in the framework of a real foreign and inclusive policy engaging all the Member States and the local communities, renew and enhance the cooperation policy with the Mediterranean and Africa, including a European Plan of investments, based on private/public partnerships; manage migratory flows through supranational measures and instruments;
4. grant the right to external security, through the progressive integration of national military instruments, as an instrument for peace through a common foreign policy, and the establishment of European peace corps; grant the right to internal security by reinforcing the fight against transnational organized crime, corruption, and terrorism, laying the foundation for a European criminal law, reinforcing the powers of the European Public Prosecutor, and creating a common Intelligence Agency, within the respect of EP’s and National Parliaments’ prerogatives;
5. provide the EMU with an economic government based on democratic political institutions: overcoming the distinction between supranational monetary policies, intergovernmental economic policies, and national social policies, within the respect of the principle that establishes the Euro as the single currency of the entire Union, with the obligation for all Member States to adopt it, and creating the political and financial instruments necessary to ensure shared prosperity;
6. adopt a long-term budget with five-years terms, to be adapted yearly according to short term necessities, based on a fiscal capacity independent from national budgets, strengthened by loans and mortgages to grant long-term, innovative investments, and provided with the amount necessary to grant the citizens with public goods of European dimension;
7. adopt more efficient measures to promote the convergence, reduce inequalities with a strong cohesive European policy, and to create a European welfare, with a full and binding implementation of the principles of the European Pillar of Social Rights adopted in Goteborg, creating the conditions for a renewed social dialogue, the characterizing element of economic democracy;
8. make the EU, and its industrial, technologic, and scientific policies a model for ecologic transition, fully implementing the Goals for Sustainable Development adopted by the United Nations in 2015, and the Paris Agreements signed in 2016;
9. create a true European federal citizenship, as an added value to national citizenship, provided with an autonomous core of individual and collective Rights, strengthened by the subscription of the European Convention on Human Rights, and by the Reviewed European Social Charter signed in Turin,, in a first significant step forward with the introduction of transnational lists for the election of the EP, according due respect to gender equality and demographic balances;
10. start a constituent phase for a united, liable, and democratic Europe, through the election in Spring of 2019, in the occasion for the EP renewal, among the countries and the peoples that will wish to, of a “Congress” with the mandate to draw the Fundamental Law for a future federal Community, democratically approved by a pan-European referendum.
